

Review & Recommend

Ensure that Workday functions at peak efficiency and adapts to your growing business needs.

Driving the value of Workday

From optimizing your current configuration to exploring strategic solutions for growth, we partner with your team to produce actionable recommendations specific to your organization.

Reasons for a Review & Recommend

- Time has passed since your Workday deployment, and you're not taking advantage of new features and functionality
- You're newly live and have a list of items your team didn't have time to fit into the project timeline
- Specific processes are not functioning as anticipated in design, and you need to review them
- You have grown globally
- You're interested in how your Workday configuration differs from competitors in your business vertical

Choose what works best for your business

R&R - Multiple Modules (up to six)

Our pricing model allows an assessment of up to six Workday modules of your choice. We conduct a detailed intake session, focusing on each team's current pain points, future strategies, and priorities, followed by an in-depth review of the tenant by functional area.

Following the intake session, we provide a customer read-out session where recommendations, tenant reviews, high-level estimates, priorities, and a sequenced roadmap to execution are presented.

If we find a quick fix, with your permission, we'll fix it on the fly for free.

R&R - Single Module

Single Module Reviews offer the same detailed review of a single Workday Module and are offered for delivery for any Workday HCM or Finance Module, your reporting landscape, or security by our certified, experienced consulting teams.
