

WORKDAY LEARNING QUICKSTART

Get your Remote Workforce Productive Faster

A Remote World

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed the face of work. Many companies have no choice but to go virtual. If your employees are newly working from home, achieving productivity fast is critical. If you have Workday Learning, but haven't deployed it yet, leveraging your investment rapidly can help you. Intecrowd's Workday Learning QuickStart can help you upskill or maintain skills and compliance during this unusual time. Delivering virtual content for new skills or processes can also help you prepare for recovery. Workday Learning facilitates enabling your staff to effectively work remotely and not lose productivity. In response to the continued economic hardship and uncertainty with COVID-19, Intecrowd is offering to deploy Workday Learning to enable your company to continue to grow and move forward during this time while providing your employees access to important information and learning material. Our solution includes basic setup and configuration to get your company up and running on Workday Learning.
